

Conditions of use of the Message board

1. Anyone using this website acknowledges and accepts that the material posted here is the opinions of individual parents and that North Somerset Parents Participation Forum is not responsible for the content of material posted, does not endorse the views expressed and does not warrant the accuracy of any material posted on this website.
2. Use of the message board is offered on condition that users agree not to post anything that may be considered threatening, abusive, defamatory, discriminatory, racist, obscene or offensive, not to post any material that is protected by copyright, intellectual or other property rights or is illegal, not to post anything that advertises or offers for sale any commercial product or service, and not to use the message board to campaign for political parties, religious organisations or other organisations unrelated to disability or special education needs.
3. Users agree that while quality of service issues may be discussed on the message board it is not appropriate for individuals working in any service to be identified on this website in the context of a complaint or criticism.
4. Users agree not to post confidential information about any individual other than themselves. Users are strongly advised to safeguard their privacy by not posting confidential information about themselves including phone numbers, postal or email addresses.
5. Users acknowledge that North Somerset Parents Participation Forum has an absolute right to take any measures to safeguard the message board without prior notice including restricting access to all or part of the message board, modifying or deleting messages, restricting the access of individual registered users and terminating a user's registration.
6. Registered users agree to keep their user name and password secure, not to allow others to use them and to contact the message board administrator if their user name and password become known to others.